Bring California Home & Assembly Bill 71Sharon Rapport, Corporation for Supportive Housing

Bring CA Home Inadequate State Response:

In the best years, California spends less than 0.5% of its state budget on solving homelessness.

Inadequate State Response:

Legislative Analyst's Office & State Auditor Recently Reported: Poor State Response

One-time funding has created fragmented state response

Siloed state response, with 41 programs administered by 9 agencies

Little to no coordination or support with local CoCs, funding often for services that don't follow evidence-based practices

Assembly Bill 71 (L. Rivas/Chiu/Bloom/Wicks)

AB 71 calls for California to invest ongoing funding of $2.4 billion annually, which, combined with federal and local resources, would reverse the cycle of homelessness for our state by investing in evidence-based models. It could:

Help 28,000 people and families on the brink of homelessness by creating new affordable apartments and providing low-cost interventions like rental assistance and other cash payments that allow people to stay in their homes;

Help close to 25,000 individuals and families access a safe place to shelter while they find permanent housing, including innovative programs like leasing motel rooms similar to Project Roomkey, hotel vouchers, or navigation centers with case managers;

AB 71 calls for California to invest $2.4 billion annually which, combined with federal and local resources, would reverse the cycle of homelessness for our state. It could:

Allow at least 43,000 people to move into permanent housing through rental housing and capital development, and for at least 22,000 households to connect to family and friends to exit homelessness; and

Provide housing navigation, case management and employment support to about 50,000 people so they can thrive in housing.

AB71

Bring CA Home

The funding would be combined with local and federal resources and invested in the solutions we know work to end homelessness. Funding would flow to:

1. Non-profit organizations to create more housing affordable for people experiencing homelessness and households with low incomes.

2. Cities, counties and homeless continuums of care to invest in innovative models and housing solutions, tailored to the needs of each community.

3. Support for previous state investments by funding ongoing costs to operate these projects an fund services for people who need them.

AB 71: How will we raise $2.4 billion a year during a national fiscal crisis?

Our measure will conform to the federal GILTI tax, which will ensure that corporations doing business in California pay taxes on intellectual property or production that brings in overseas profits — instead of avoiding taxes in low- or no-tax foreign countries.

AB 71 will also restore the corporate tax on the wealthiest corporations, with net profits of over $5 million, to the 1986 level, ensuring these corporations pay their fair share of the housing burdens Californians face.

Corporations doing any business in California—not just those headquartered here—wil pay these taxes.

Bay Area Funding Priorities

Coronavirus response is the top funding priority among voters, though there is also support for a variety of other priorities, including affordable housing and homelessness.

Q6-16. Thinking about where the Bay Area should prioritize funding, please rate each of the following items using a scale of one to seven, where one means not a priority at all, and seven means a very high priority.
